

SOLE SOURCE CERTIFICATION

Dear Community College Representative:

The Mentor & Match Corporation virtual mentor networking platform is a unique and innovative solution that will allow student to connect with experienced mentors in their field of study, alumni, industry professionals and others with similar experiences.

After conducting an extensive review of various mentor networking platforms on the market, we have determined that the Mentor & Match platform is the only option that meets the needs of community college students. Our user-friendly interface, customization options, and features such as video conferencing and goal-setting tools make it an ideal solution for community college students.

Mentor & Match platform is a sole source vendor for this type of software, as no other vendor offers a comparable solution that meets the needs of student utilizing a custom algorithm. We believe that our platform will be invaluable in helping your students achieve their academic and career goals.

Sincerely,
